

Health & Safety Policy Statement

The Health & Safety at Work etc., Act 1974 imposes a statutory duty on employers to ensure in so far as is reasonably practicable the health and safety of their employees whilst at work. This duty also extends to others who may be affected by that work.

Employees also have a statutory duty to take care of themselves and others who may be affected by their actions or omissions.

To enable these duties to be carried out, it is our intent to ensure that the responsibilities for health and safety are effectively assigned, accepted and fulfilled at all levels within the organisation.

We will, so far as is reasonably practical, ensure that:

- Adequate Resources are provided to ensure that proper provision can be made for health and safety.
- Risk assessments are carried out and periodically reviewed.
- All employees are provided with such information, instruction, training and supervision as is necessary to ensure their safety and health at work and the safety of others who may be affected by their actions.
- The provision and maintenance of all equipment to ensure that it is safe and without risk to health.
- The working environment of all employees is safe and without risk to health and that adequate provision is made with regard to the facilities for their welfare at work.

It is the duty of all employees at work:

- To take reasonable care for the health and safety of themselves and others who may be affected by their acts or omissions and co-operate with us in fulfilling our statutory duties.
- Not to interfere with or misuse anything provided in the interest of health and safety.
